IOHAN·AMOS COMENIVS MORAUVS.A°ÆTAT.°60, 1652.

ON MY SIDE
PSALM 118-6

The Psalms do not lend themselves to reconciliation, as this Northern Ireland Protestant illustrates.

sections is a real loss. If we are honest with ourselves we will say that although "turn the other cheek" is the ideal, the desire at least to "smash them in the teeth" (well, maybe once in a while) is closer to reality. If the New Testament tells us where we ought to be, the Psalms tell us where we really are more often than we care to admit.

Another response, common in certain scholarly circles, is to claim that the enemies in the Psalms are not human but are the mythical powers of death. There is a certain connection between the enemies and death, as in the "weapons of death" in Psalm 7:13, but as Christoph Barth notes in his Introduction to the Psalms it is clear that the enemies are ordinary human beings and these are prayers for their punishment. In the community laments and certain of the royal psalms these ordinary human beings are most likely foreign enemies (Babylon, for instance), but we have no way of knowing who the enemies would be for the individual laments which are most frequent.

But that doesn't make much difference. The enemies are always so godless, so evil, without a hint of redeeming qualities, that we appear to be dealing here more with monotonous and schematic descriptions and formulas than with real people. All of which lends itself to the liturgical use to which these prayers were put; it is much easier to say simply that some are Good and some Evil, or some Saved and some un-Saved, than to be forever qualifying each statement with "on-the-other-hand." (Not to mention the fact that it is infinitely more enjoyable to consider oneself always in the camp of the Righteous or the Saved and others not of like mind in the camp of the Godless.)

In this sense, of course, the Psalms reflect the emerging idea of God from one exclusively concerned with the tribe to one concerned with the entire world who is Lord of history. Gradually, as it were, Israel learns not to pray that God fight on its side as to be sure that it is fighting on God's side. With the more universal concept of God, as in Psalm 95: "the farthest places of the earth are in his hands, and the folds of the hills are his; the sea is his, he made it . . ." there comes more clearly as well the word of judgment to the people: "Do not grow stubborn, as you were at Meribah . . ." Psalm 95 is known as a prophetic liturgy. It illustrates the truth of Old Testament Professor Samuel Terrien's statement: "Alone in the Bible the Psalms succeeded in unifying the prophetic and priestly elements of religion."

Nonetheless we are left with polarization. The way easy polarizations lose their force is when people of one camp get to know and understand people in the other "camp." When Jesus' disciples found him talking with a real live Samaritan, one of their pet polarizations was deeply threatened. When Roman Catholic Bishop James Walsh was recently released after twelve years in a Chinese Communist prison he said he harbored no bitterness toward his captors. The reason? He said he never could bring himself personally to dislike any Chinese. The aged Bishop, who had more reason than most to utter imprecations against "godless Communists," had put his finger on the only sure-fire way to overcome polarization—understand and empathize with the people involved.

Of all the numerous statements on the Vietnam war issued by religious readers perhaps the most perceptive was one issued last spring at the time of the Cambodia invasion. Signed by many people, including the Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church, William P. Thompson, and the president of the United Methodist Council of Bishops, John Wesley Lord, the statement asked: "Have we understood that an Asian death is the same as an American death? When will enough human beings see through to the human beings on the other side. . .?"

Polarizations also lose their force, by definition, when we recognize the various camps within us. "O Lord [illegible] believe, help mine unbelief" is hardly self-righteousness. On an international scale, we can recognize that such terms as "free world" (Greece? Taiwan?) and Communist are mere rhetoric, that as the Communists become more "capitalistic" and the Capitalists more socially oriented it should be harder and harder to tell the white hats from the black hats (and who says we must wear one or the other?). What the Psalms lack, according to German scholar Gerhard von Rad, are the "intermediate degrees and relative judgments that are so familiar to human valuation." When our social and political life lack this too, polarization is the result.

Finally, lest it appear that we have been too hard on the Psalms, we should note two things. Firstly, the man who prays "The Lord is my shepherd" is the same man who wants to gloat over his enemies. The man who prays such high thoughts about Jerusalem in Psalm 137 is the same man who has such terrible thoughts about Babylonian children. Thus the Psalms have not only the germ of the "two inclinations" theory. They have also the marvelous idea that all of a man's hopes and desires, his hates and frustration, can be offered to God and be used by God. God accepts and uses all of a man, not just that part which might meet certain standards of righteousness. It is no wonder that the last words of Jesus were from a psalm.

Secondly, these parts of the psalms mirror the hatred of God for sin as surely as other parts of scripture mirror his love for the sinner. A morality, said Scottish theologian John Baillie, which attempts to dispense with forgiveness of sins and substitute a "betterment program" is bankrupt. Reconciliation did not cost God nothing; it was not facile or cheap.

In a word, to understand the full impact of reconciliation we must know how deep the hatred and the argument were in the first place. The extent to which we need reconciliation is the extent to which we need to know the depth of the argument and what all the yelling is about. And vice-versa. ■

JOHN AMOS COMENIUS—A PROPHET FOR TODAY

Vilem Schneeberger

There are three men born in what is today Czechoslovakia known throughout the whole world: The reformer John Hus, whose importance for the country is similar to the importance of Martin Luther in Germany or John Calvin in Switzerland; the last Bishop of the Unitas Fratrum, John Amos Comenius, and the first President of the Czechoslovak Republic, Thomas Garrigue Masaryk. This year, on November 15, all Protestants in Czechoslovakia will remember the 300th anniversary of the death of J. A. Comenius. But not only they. The whole nation remembers it—President Svoboda mentioned it in his New Year's Messages—and through UNESCO the whole cultural world.

Irony of History

When Americans visit Middle Europe, especially Czechoslovakia, they usually compare things here and there and then have an—expressed or unexpressed—question: Why are the situations in Czechoslovakia and in the United States so different? The answer they find depends usually on the political opinion of the questioner. Few of them go back to the roots, to the different historical backgrounds. None of us as individuals or nations lives in a vacuum without a background.

This November Czech Protestants will also remember another sad anniversary. On November 8 it will be 350 years since the battle on the White Mountain near Prague was fought. This battle marks an end of an era when the vast majority of people in Bohemia and Moravia were Protestants. After that battle the whole country was thrown into a period of a counterreformation and the Protestants had only one choice—either become Roman Catholics or leave the country.

It is an irony of history that in the same month, on November 21, 1620, the Mayflower brought emigrants from Europe to the American shore who left the continent in order to find full religious and political freedom in the New World. For the people in Bohemia and Moravia November 1620 brought a 300-year period of lack of freedom and oppression with all the symptoms of an occupied country; for the people in the new colonies in America, a period of political democracy and religious liberty. Is it then strange that this historical development brought such different situations in both countries? Nobody is able to jump over his shadow!

Hope in a Hopeless Time

John Amos Comenius was born on March 28, 1592. The greater part of his life was spent, after 1620, in a time of war and uncertainty. He became a witness on the border of ages. This is probably the reason why he speaks especially to people who are on such a border.

Comenius lived in a period of Czech history that is commonly known as the Period of Darkness. The battle on the White Mountain brought the counterreformation to a country that was predominantly Protestant. Many Protestants who wanted to preserve their freedom of opinion left the country. It was in that period, in the beginnings of the eighteenth century, when some of these exiles settled in Herrnhut in Germany. Some of them, on one of their missionary journeys, met John Wesley and helped show him the way to salvation by faith alone. During the Thirty Years' War (1618-1648), Comenius still had hope that things would be settled to the advantage of the Protestants. He thought the Lutheran Swedes and Germans might help the small Czech nation. But the year 1648 buried all his hopes.

Comenius reflects upon this time from a Christian point of view. In his early years he was convinced the church has to penetrate society. When this was impossible because of the political situation he had to find out where the church has its raison d'être. What is the task of the church when the outward situation and the powers in this world do not support the church? This question is not new. It appears in the New Testament. But it is still actual today.

Comenius wrote during the Thirty Years' War the book The Labyrinth of the World that is read today no less so than at that time. It is a philosophic allegory. He goes as a pilgrim through the whole world and visits all kinds and ranks of people. Hereby he sees—like the Book of Ecclesiastes in the Bible—the vanity of all things. Because of so much pain and sorrow he decides he will leave the world. But then he finds the "way home," he meets Christ and becomes His disciple. Here he finds real freedom, security, and joy. He still is in this unhappy world but he is at the same time citizen of another world and sees this world in a quite different light.

Comenius did not know anything about Paul Tillich's God "in the depth of life." But he lived in a time when the church had no power to influence political and social history and Comenius asked if the church still has something to give. It was not an escape from this world for him but a gain of real hope for the tasks in this world. And this is something the church must not forget in all ages. This is a witness that is alive in Czech Protestantism today.

Vivid Heritage

When the Methodist Church started in 1920 (fifty years ago!) in the young Republic of Czechoslovakia, they usually remembered Jan Hus, John Amos Comenius and John Wesley.

Many leaflets with the pictures of these men and one of their typical sayings give an eloquent proof of it. It is surely not without interest to remember these words: "Czech nation return to Christ" (Hus), "Long live you nation consecrated to God" (Comenius), and "The whole world is my parish" (Wesley). The Czechs did not know who John Wesley was but they knew very well the name of John Hus and J. A. Comenius. This was a vivid heritage for them.

Even today we will find the name of Comenius on many churches, schools, institutions. In Bratislava there is the Comenius University. The ecumenical seminary in Prague, where there are today students from seven churches, bears the name Protestant Theological Comenius-Faculty. It is not only the name of Comenius that represents a link between them—all churches go spiritually back to him—but his ecumenism and Christian heritage.

In almost every Protestant family in Czechoslovakia we find today books written by Comenius. He was a very productive author. More than his pansophic and pedagogic books his books about the Christian life are read by every generation of church members. The witness of hope amidst a turbulent and uneasy time is a vivid heritage. Many images—such as the world is like a revolving desk and God is the resting center—became slogans remembered on many occasions. Comenius became through his hope a prophetic figure.

Smallness as Task

Comenius was Bishop of a very small church. The Unitas Fratrum never was a majority church in Bohemia. But Comenius knew that even this small church had a task. It should be a "beautiful church," a pattern for all other churches. Therefore they stressed the discipline and an orderly life—like Wesley in his societies. Even Comenius published an issue of the discipline although he knew that the Unitas Fratrum had to die in exile. He believed that this emphasis was something this small church had to share with the bigger sister churches.

This awareness of the sending is something that still lives in all non-Catholic churches in Czechoslovakia. They all are minorities compared with the Roman Catholic Church but they know they have something to share. It is not the worst thing that a church is small. The worst thing is when a church has nothing to give, be it a small church or a big one. This we have to know in the century of church unions. Two churches without a sending may make one united church but also without a sending. The question is whether this is better or not.

After the peace of Münster and Osnabrück in 1648 that ended the Thirty Years' War, when there never was hope for the Protestants in Bohemia, Comenius wrote the "Testament of the Dying Mother of the Unitas Fratrum." Although he knew about the end of the church of which he was Bishop he also knew that the work of God cannot die. In the Testament he then points out what the Unitas Fratrum has to leave to other churches. But the nation is also one of the heirs. It is typical of Comenius, that the nation is the main heir and got this heritage: the love of the truth of God, the Bible, the love of discipline, the effort to unite the Protestant churches, the love of the language, the effort for a better education of youth. This is what makes a nation a great one whether it is big or small. And these things that belong to the best traditions of the Czech nation are a heritage from a church, a very small church! This knowledge of a sending gives even today a vitality to the small churches in the country. In this Testament there is also a prophecy known perhaps by every Czech: "I believe of God that after the storm of wrath is over the government of thy affairs will anew return to you, Czech nation." A prophecy in the darkness of the hopeless year 1650!

It would be possible to quote many passages from the works of Comenius about questions that are up to date, as, for example, the peaceful settling of public affairs. His time was not unlike our time. We could remember his effort to give people a better education because he believed that a better education leads to a more peaceful world. But his chief greatness is in his hope on the edge of historical periods when it seemed that there is no hope at all. He knew about the hope that comes from faith. This is a witness even for our restless time. ■

d. 24 Aug. 1572, killed by the Duc de Guise himself, during the massacre of thousands of Huguenots on St. Bartholomew's Day, in Paris, & elsewhere in France. The massacre instigated by Catherine de Médicis, who governed France in the name of her son Charles IX, & who along with the Duc de Guise (Henri I de Lorraine) was one of the principal Catholic leaders.

He was made Admiral of France 1552. During his imprisonment after capture of St.Quentin(1557) by the Spaniards, he embraced the views of the Huguenots, to which the rest of his life was consecrated. Coligny & Louis I de Bourbon (Prince de Condé) were the Huguenot leaders in the 1st 10 years of the conflicts, 1562-1572. After Louis I d. 1569, Coligny was appointed generalissimo of the forces of King Henry of Navarre, a Protestant. Peace was concluded in 1570 but Catherine alarmed once more at influence of Coligny over the young King Charles IX, organized the Massacre of St. Bartholomew, during which Coligny was murdered.

FINCH

The alphabetical list of passengers of the "Arbella" (one of the first 5 ships of the Winthrop Fleet) includes: Abraham^{1} Finch, Abraham^{2} Finch, Jr., Daniel & John Finch (?from Yorkshire, Eng.). The "Arbella" sailed 8 Apr. 1630 from Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, England, after putting in to port there because of heavy winds on sailing 29 Mar. 1630. They arrived at Salem, Mass. 13 June 1630.

The four Finches settled first at Watertown, Mass., where according to Mr. Winthrop, in his "New England", "Old Finch" had "his wigwam and all his goodes destroyed by fire."

Abraham, Sr. took Oath of Freeman 14 May 1634 at Watertown, Mass.; Abraham, Jr. took Oath of Freeman 3 Sept. 1634, Watertown; Daniel took Oath of Freeman 18 May 1631, Watertown.

In 1634, the four were in the original group which became the settlement of Wethersfield, Conn. Their lot assignments were on the East side of Broad Street and all adjacent. Abraham, Sr.'s record ends there and Abraham, Jr. was killed there. (A, Jr. was constable in 1636)

Abraham^{2} Finch, Jr. - b. - England; d. 30 Oct. 1637 KBI, Wethersfield, Conn. He was killed by Nepaupuck, a Pequot Captain, who for that act (says Trumbull I. 112) was tried & put to death 30 Oct. 1639. The poor Indian suffered for killing Abraham in open war, which Conn. had declared 1 May 1637, and so appears a sad example (would it had been the last in our country) of judicial murder.

Fisc, Fisk, Fiske in Scandinavian means fish

Daniel Fisc of Laxfield named in document issued by ~~the~~ King John A.D. May 1208 (~~[illegible]~~) confirming a gr. of land in Digneveton Park made by the Duke of Loraine to the men of Laxfield

1. Lord Symond Fiske (at least 5 ch.) m. (1) Susannah Susan Smyth m. (2) Katherine Crispe

2. William Fiske ( ) b. Stadbaugh Manor, England (8 ch.) m. Joan Lynne of Norfolk, Eng.

3. Simon Fiske ( ) b. Laxfield, Eng. (10 ch.)

Symond Fiske, Lord of the Manor of Stadhaugh, held lands in Laxfield Parish & was probably grandson of Daniel Fisc.

He bore for his arms, *"chequey, argent and gules, upon a pale, sable, three mullets of, pearced ~~pierced~~". These arms with a crest added, were confirmed to Prof. Nicholas Fiske, professor in Physic, of Stadhaugh, in Laxfield.

In 1633 a charter of confirmation was issued from Herald's College. It acknowledges the use of the arms by an anc. to all the emigrants.

The motto is evidently taken from Virgil's Aeneid, the 9th bk. - 640th & 641st lines -

"Atque his victorem affatur Iulum:
Macte nova virtute, puer; sic itur ad astra."

I find Nicholas Fiske of Studhaw in the parish of Laxfield, in the county of Suffolk, Proffessor in Phisick, son of Nathan Fiske of the same, son of William, son of Thomas, son of William Fiske of Studhaw aforesaid that lived in the raignes of King Henry the sixt, Edward the III, Richard the third and King Henry the seventh who beared for their coats armor, as followeth viz, see above*

m. - ? Dowsing (or Dowling)

(From Genealogy N.E. Families Vol.1 - p.42) The surname Fisk or Fiske has been in use from the earliest times in England. The records show that 1 May 1208, the Duke of Lorraine granted land in Digneveton Park, to the men of Laxfield, the list including one Daniel Fisc, who is supposed to have been the grandfather of Lord Symond Fisk from whom the American family is descended.

Will of THOMAS FITCH of Bockinge, Essex, clothier, 11 December 1632, proved 12 February 1632.

To the poor of Bocking three pounds. To my eldest son, Thomas, that chief messuage wherein I now dwell in Bocking and the messuage adjoining, now in the occupation of the said Thomas, and all the lands tenements &c which I purchased of William Collin in Bocking, and the lands and tenements in Bocking which I lately purchased of Edward Peppen gent and his wife and John Amptill and his wife and the barn in Bocking by Panfield Lane which I lately purchased of Thomas Trotter, upon condition that he pay my sister Stracy twenty shillings yearly during her natural life. To my son and his heirs the messuage in Bocking late of Richard Usher deceased and which I lately purchased of Paul Usher and Peter Kirby and Ursula Bond, widow, and the little garden or orchard in Bocking now in the occupation of Richard Skinner or his assigns, and the tenement in the occupation of Thomas Laye in Bocking by Panfield Lane and the great orchard adjoining which I purchased of Mr Thomas Trotter, to enter upon the same at his age of one and twenty years. To my son John two hundred pounds at one and twenty.

"Item I give to my sonne James one hundred pounds to be paid him when he shalbe a batchelor of Art of two yeares standinge in the uninrsity of Cambridge, for I desire he should be bredd up a scholler, And I also give him and my minde is that he shall have thirtie pounds a year paid him by my Executrix out of my lands and tents. from the tyme of his admission to be a scholler in Cambridge until he be or have tyme there to be a master of arts." To my sons Nathaniel and Jeremy, to either of them a moiety and half part of the farm messuage, Lands and tenements, both free and copy, lying and being in Birch or elsewhere in Essex, which I lately purchased of William Brock, gent, to be equally divided between them, and they to enter upon the same at their several ages of one and twenty. My executrix shall lay out six hundred and fifty pounds within one year after my decease and shall purchase with the same as much lands and tenements within the County of Essex as the same will buy in a frugal and good manner, to be assured to the use of my two younger sons Samuel and Joseph. And my wife Anne shall have the lands and tenements in Birch, which I have given to Nathaniel and Jeremy, and the lands &c to be purchased for Samuel and Joseph until these four sons shall severally accomplish their ages of sixteen years &c. To my three daughters Mary, Anna and Sara three hundred pounds apiece, whereof two hundred pounds apiece to be paid at their several ages of eighteeen, and the other hundred at one and twenty. To my loving friends Mr. Hooker, Mr. Nathaniel Rogers, Mr. Daniel Rogers and Mr. Collins twenty shillings apiece as a token of my love. To son Thomas my great oil cistern of lead, so as he give and deliver to my son John the little cistern of lead for oil which I late bought and gave to Thomas. To my brother John Malden and my sister his wife twenty shillings apiece. To Henry Stracy my kinsman five pounds. To my brothers John Reeve and William Stacy (Stracy?) forty shillings apiece and to my brother Jeremy Reeve twenty shillings as a token of my love. The residue to my wife whom I make sole executrix, she to enter upon a bond of two thousand pounds to my said brothers John Reeve and William Stacy (Stracy?) with condition to prove this will within two months after my decease and to pay all the legacies and perform all things contained therein. My said brothers to be supervisors.

Capt. John[1] Floyd - b. abt. 1636, judging from his testimony given as a witness in court at Salem in 1681 and from age appearing on g.s. Lynn.
d. 1 Feb. 1701/2 at Rumney Marsh; bur. at Lynn, Mass.
m. - Sarah Doolittle, dau. of John of Rumney Marsh.
b.
d. 16 June 1717, aged 75
bur. in the old Rumney Marsh burial-ground (now in Revere, Mass.)

He was living in Lynn in 1662 with wife Sarah when his eldest child was born; from here he moved, about 1670, to Malden, settling at Black Ann's Corner, nr. Rumney Marsh line. Made freeman in 1674, and during the spring and early summer of 1676 served as lieut. in Capt. Henchman's company in King Philip's War. About 1680 he moved to Rumney Marsh, where he lived for the remainder of his life, retaining, however, the Malden farm and sharing in the sixth division of the common lands of Malden as a freeholder of that town.
John Doolittle, his fa.-in-law, d. 24 Sept. 1681, and made Capt. Floyd's children the residuary legatees of his large estate in Rumney Marsh, in his will mentioning Sarah Floyd, and making son-in-law John Floyd sole executor.

Capt. Floyd was in Gov. Andros's expedition of 1688 against the Indians to the eastward and in 1689 was in command of a military post on the Saco River. In 1690 he was made Captain of a troop and stationed at Portsmouth and for about 3 years after this he saw service against the Indians, taking part in the fight at Wheelwright's Pond, in the expedition of Sept. 1690, under Maj. Church, against the enemy around Casco, etc.

In 1692 he was arrested and imprisoned on the charge of practising witchcraft and evidence was given against him in the trial of Abigail Faulkner at Salem, 11 Aug. of that year, but he appears to have escaped conviction.

His heirs drew up an agreement for the division of his estate, which included eight negroes and was partitioned between the widow Sarah, sons Hugh, John, Joseph and Daniel and sons-in-law Nathaniel Upham and John Hawks (Suffolk Probate, vol. 14, p. 400).

Floyd is a name of Welsh origin, derived from the word lloyd or llwyd, meaning grey. It was very common in London and the country round about in the early part of the 17th century, and several of the early settlers of Mass. Bay and Plymouth bore this surname. John Floyd, a merchant from London, was in Scituate with wife Anne in 1640 and later removed to Boston. Joseph Floyd (often given as Flood) also from London, came to Dorchester with wife Jane in 1635 and moved to Lynn three years later. Possibly one of these was the father of Capt. John Floyd of Rumney Marsh, but no record has been discovered throwing any light on the subject. The other early New England Floyds seem to be out of the question.

Rumney Marsh, which was then the northernmost district of Boston, became a part of Chelsea in Jan. 1738/9, and is now the town of Revere, Mass.

Mary, given by Savage and other authorities, as dau. of Capt. John, was more likely a daughter of John & Sarah (Barker) Flood, of Boston.

John[1] Folger b. m. Meribah Gibbs

Peter[2] Folger b. 1617 (1618 in Farmer's bk)
d. 1690
m. Mary Morrill

P on the ship "Abigail" 1635, from Norwich, Eng. & fell in love with Mary Morrill (Mõrrell) an indentured servant in the family of Rev. Hugh Peters, travelling to America on the same ship as also was Sir Harry Vane. Peter made love to her all the way from Liverpool to Boston. Sir Harry Vane was rich and noble; Peter was poor & humble & Mary fell in love with Peter and never so much as looked at Sir Harry who became Boy Governor of the Mass. Bay Colony.

Sir Harry Vane & (Rev. Hugh) Mr. Peters were friends and ret'd. to London together. Later Mr. Peters sent to N.E. for his wife to return. She ordered Mary to pack their things. It was 9 yrs. since Mary had seen the young Miller, who had made love to her under the moon & had promised to buy her indenture. Mary was an orphan bound out to Rev. Mr. Peters, and anyone wanting to marry her, had to pay the Peters 20 pounds. It took Peter a long time to make it, but as soon as he heard Mrs. Peters was returning to London, & taking Mary with her, he secured his sweetheart's release; and all the rest of his life he called her his "best buy" and "a dam fine bargain."

So Mrs. Peters travelled alone & was hardly in London when Charles II returned to the throne and ordered her husband hanged, drawn, & quartered. Sir Harry Vane was beheaded in London.

Peter^2 Folger was probably the best educated man on Nantucket Island, and the first settler to learn the Indian language. He became official interpreter.

Peter^2 & Mary went to Martha's Vineyard and began raising a family. When not busy as a miller, he worked at weaving and making shoes, and in between was interpreter for Mr. Mayhew and the Indians. For there was no union in those days and nothing to curb a man's ambitions.

Dear Alice,

Sept. 19, 1985

My last trip for research at Eastham Library I hunted through "Early Settlers of Nantucket" Compiled by Lydia S. Hinchman and published by Charles E. Tuttle Company of Rutland, Vt. and Tokyo, Japan. That last intrigued me! Probably get it done cheaper there.

Also looked through Savage Vol. 2 – (p. 177).

Found Peter²'s children: Peter son of John b. 1617, came over with his father from Norwich, Eng. & went to M's V. in 1635 where Peter taught school & surveyed land.
~~Eleazer b. 1648~~ ~~[illegible] (Savage)~~. He was a shoemaker and married (getting ahead of myself) Mary Morrell/Morrill, about 9 yrs. after courting her for the entire trip from Liverpool England to Boston in the "Abigail." It was after Rev. Hugh Peters & Sir Henry Vane had gone back to England & Rev. Peters had told his wife to have Mary help her pack & for them to return to Eng. Peter Folger finally got the 20. lbs. to buy Mary's indenture. As Mrs. Peters traveled ~~back alone~~ & was hanged in London when Charles II ret'd. to the throne. ~~It was a few~~ ~~Mrs. Peters fell when she landed in England.~~ ~~King Charles II~~ and queen [illegible] husband Rev. Peters hanged, drawn & ~~slaughtered~~ quartered; & Sir Harry Vane beheaded in London."

Didn't get this from the above book but from one of 3 books I had read years back & had copied for my Folger Pages.

Altho not one of the 1st prop. of Nantucket he may be regarded as a very early settler having rem. to the Island in 1663. There he was chosen Clerk of the Court and Recorder 21 July 1673; he also surveyed lands for the settlers and was regarded as the scholar of the community. His varied employment prove him to have been as versatile as industrious; to him at least, "the knowing Folger lazy," does not have been applied. Peter d. in 1690; his widow in 1704.

(After Peter had secured his sweetheart's release from indenture and all the rest of his life he called her his "best buy" and "a damn fine bargain.")

Peter + Mary were m. in 1644 V. and began raising a family. When not being busy as a miller he worked at weaving and making shoes and in between was interpreter for Mr. Mayhew + the Indians. For there was no union in those days & nothing to curb a man's ambition.

According to one item I read earlier Peter + Mary had 2 sons & 7 daus. but so far I've only found Eleazer[3] & 4 daus. (4 ch. missing)

James^{2} Franklin - his brother Benjamin^{2} Franklin was apprenticed to him when only 13 yrs. of age. James had recently returned from England with a new printing press.
Benjamin learned the printing trade, devoting his spare time to the advancement of his education.
In 1721 James established the "New England Courant" and Benjamin at the age of 15 was busily occupied in delivering the newspaper by day and in composing articles for it at night.
In 1722 in consequence of an article considered particularly offensive, James was imprisoned for a month and forbidden to publish his paper and for awhile it appeared under Benjamin's name.

Benjamin^{2} Franklin - not long afterward as a result of disagreements with James, Benjamin left Boston and made his way to Philadelphia arr. in Oct. 1723. there he worked at his trade, and made a number of friends. One, Sir Wm. Keith, the provincial governor of Pennsylvania, persuaded him to go to England to complete his training as a printer and to purchase the equipment needed to start his own printing establishment in Phila. Benj. reached London in Dec. 1724. He obtained employment at two of the foremost printing houses in London, Palmer's & Watt's. 2 years later in Oct. 1726 he returned to Phila. where he resumed his trade.
He m. in 1730 - Deborah Read, a Philadelphia girl whom he had known before his trip to England.

When he was b., Conn. was a British colony & subject to British law. Under that law the eldest son had a double portion. David, being the youngest son, rec'd. a small inheritance of land, to which he added by purchase, and in 1785 he built the house later occupied by Isaac W. Geer; later he bought a farm on Rose Hill, of Capt. Samuel Killam and built a new dwelling upon it. This farm was long occupied by his son Joseph. By trade he was a tanner and shoemaker, and he carried on farming in connection with his trade and acquired a good estate for the times in which he lived. He was known to all as "Uncle David."

They resided in Poquetanuck, Ledyard, in the house built by his father, David Geer. In early life he served in the militia and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He had more ambition to succeed in personal business affairs than in public life, but was honored by several town and society offices, and was a much respected and useful citizen in his neighborhood and town. He was passionately fond of music, and was one of the old-fashioned singing masters, teaching the art of singing at Meeting House Hill, Ledyard, at Preston Plains, and in Poquetanuck. He was chorister in St. James Church, in Poquetanuck, for 25 yrs.

Will of George Geer

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN. June 5, 1723. I, George Geer, of the town of Groton, now residing in Preston, in the County of New London, in the Colony of Connecticut in New England, being weake in body but of perfect mind and memory, thanks be giving unto God for it, calling to mind the mortality of my body, and knowing that it is apinted for all men once to dye, do make and ordain this my last will and testament: That is to say princably, and first of all, I give and recomend my soul into the hands of God that gave it, and my body I recomend to the earth, to be buried in decent Christian burial, at the descretion of my Executors; and as touching such worly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life I give, demise, and dispose of the same in the following manner: Imprimis, I give and bequeath to Sarah, my dearly beloved wife, the use and improvement of one third of my estate during her natural life, and then to be divided among my four daughters, Sarah, Hannah, Margaret and Anne, and my daughter Mary's two daughters, Hannah and Mary, and the rest of my estate I dispose of as followeth: To my son Jonathan five shillings, and to my son Joseph five shillings, and to my son Daniel five shillings, and to my son Robert five shillings and to my son Isaac five shillings, and to my son Jeremiah heirs five shillings, which is their full portion with what they have already had. And to my four daughters, and my two granddaughters, Hannah and Mary Mainer all the rest of my estate of cattle and horse kind, and all the moveable goods, to be equaly devided among my four daughters and two granddaughters, Hannah and Mary Mainer shall have their mother's part. And I hereby make and apoint my love son Robert Geer, and my son-in-law Thomas Gates, full and sole Executors of this my last will and testament; hereby making nul and void all former wills and bequeths, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament. In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal.

GEORGE X GEER.

This will was presented for probate Jan. 10, 1726/7, in New London.
Amount of Inventory of Personal Estate, £48 19s. 2d. Jonathan Wickwere and Jacob Parke, appraisers.

George Geer moved to Preston about six years before his death and he was nearly if not totally blind some few years before his removal from Groton. It is therefore probable that he did not write his own will. He had deeded previously nearly all his real estate to his sons.

From the "Genealogy of the Geer Family" is learned that George Geer, with his brother Thomas, came to America in the year 1635. According to tradition they were the sons of Jonathan Geer of Hevitree or Shoreham, Devonshire, England, and related to John Geer, to whom a coat of arms pertain. They were left orphans at an early age, in the care of an uncle, who in order to obtain the considerable estate to which they were heirs transported them to America. They were landed in Boston without money or friends. For quite a number of years no trace of them is found on record. About 1651 George Geer became an inhabitant of New London, coming, probably, with Winthrop. Oct. 31, 1665, he bought the farm of Robert Isbell, in the northeastern part of the now town of Ledyard, and later built him a house on a side hill near a never-failing spring of water. (This spring was still in use when bk. was written.) The northern boundary of his farm was the line between Norwich and New London. At the first town meeting held after that part of New London east of the river became the town of Groton, December, 1705, he was chosen to be fourth townsman.

Daniel^2 Geer settled in that part of Preston now called Griswold, on a tract of land granted to his father, George Geer, by Owaneco Sachem, eldest son of Uncas, Dec. 11, 1691, and which he deeded to Daniel Feb. 22, 1706/7. He also added to his farm by purchase. He was a prosperous farmer and accumulated a handsome estate. The inventory of his personal estate at his decease amounted to £954 14s. 7d.

(from Alice)

Then on the 17th he treated me to a day of research in lower Maine. Down in York, the Berwicks, the Lebanons, etc. And by some expert (?) sleuthing, and confirmation by a local historian, we stood on some of grampa Ambrose Gibbons' land. By using that map I had traced and orienting our position in regards to the old cemtery shown we figured just about where the house should have been. A huge house there now and a young girl who came to the door didn't know anything about it but sent me to another place. There was a tour of 7 old homes connected with the Lord family going on that day. The lady in charge of the house where I was sent wasn't quite sure if we had it correct but sent me to yet another house (on the tour) and told me to ask for this gentleman who "could tell me if anyone could". So I did - and he did. "Why certainly,"he said and took my map and pointed to the very spot where we had been. Told me to go back and see a lady who lived in a trailer on that road. Her father was the man who cleaned out gramp's well - back in 1925. We had just turned in her dooryard shortly before! But when we got back there she had gone off - the car was not in sight and noone answered my knock at the door. But it was quite interesting to be on the location of a homestead that was built in 1632. That beats the Dennet house which was built around 1708. This gets more interesting all the time! (Even if Dedie doesn't think so.)

b. abt. 1594; d. 14 May 1655 ae 61

In Apr. or May 1630 the barke Warwick came up the Piscataqua and Newichawannock rivers. Ambrose Gibbons was among those on board. Anchor was cast at foot of Little Johns Falls, where even at low tide the water is deep. The shore on east side of Newichawannock River soon came to be called Lower Landing or Pipe Stave Landing. Ambrose was a steward for Capt. John Mason and had charge of the plantation at Newichawannock (Berwick), prob. begun in 1631. "He was an honest, capable and faithful steward, and knew better than his employer what the plantation needed." His wife & child came over in the "Pied Cow" arr. early in August 1631.

He was prob. in N.E. much earlier - as in 1621 the Council of New England at old Plymouth, Devonshire, Eng., authorized Ambrose Gibbons to deliver to Capt. John Mason possession of Cape Anne. For 8 yrs. he had been Capt. Mason's factor at Cape Anne, where he built houses, brought cattle and set up the trade of fishery. In 1630 "the Mass. Colony violently seized upon that part of the province"......"and turned the servants and tenants of the said John Mason out of their possessions".

He built his home (nr. what is now Brattle St.) on elevation of land a short distance north of the mouth of Asbendick River (now kn. as Great Works River); it was large enough to accommodate 10 persons ordinarily. A storehouse and barn were built & a well dug within 2 yrs, and all were inclosed by a palisade. In 1634 he settled at Saunders Point between Little Harbor (or Pascataqua) and Sagamore Creek; he later rem. to Oyster River, N.H. (now kn. as Durham). He erected a mill w/a gang of 18 saws, the first in America.

Called Capt. in 1642; Selectman at Dover 1647 and 1648; his will made "on his sick bed" dated 11 July 1656 - proved 9 May 1657.

A tailor; evidently arr. in N.E. after 1643; 1st rec. in Sandwich 4 Dec. 1647; served on Grand Enquest 4 June 1650. Orig. deed for Sandwich plantation was executed by Gov. Wm. Bradford 22 May 1651, ordering that four men Goodman (Thomas) Tupper, Goodman (Thomas) Burges, Senr., Nathaniel Willis and William Gifford "shall have power to call a town meeting." Owned property in Barnstable Co., Mass. + New Jersey. In 1673 he purchased land in Suckanesset (Falmouth) from the Indian Sachem, Job Noantico. 23 July 1677 he was 1 of 3 men chosen to lay out certain 60-acre lots in Sandwich. 14 Apr. 1681 "Wm. Gifford of Sandwich in the Government of New Plimouth in New England, tailor", conveyed to John^1 Jenkins of the same place, one share of land in East Jersey, to wit: three necks, called Neweson, Patapeco and Navanison. By deed 6 May 1683 Wm. Gifford conveyed to his sons Robert^2 + Christopher^2, the tract of land which he had bought from Sarah Warren widow of Nathaniel^2, in Dartmouth, 7 Nov. 1670.

resided Taunton

Thomas was abt. 10 when his fa. left his fam. & ret. to Eng. in 1653, & he & his younger bro. Eleazer must have taken on, as soon as they were able, the burden of looking after their mo. & ~~#~~ sisters & their rather extensive land holdings. These were largely along the banks of "Taunton Great River," and above the weir. On the west bank, the whole south end of what is now Ingell St. must have been Gilbert property; it seems to have been covered by the 3 homelots of Thomas Gilbert, Sr. When Sam. Wms. m. the eldest sister Mary, he seems to have joined the family group, & Thomas on his own m. in 1676 settled close by. Eleazer in 1682 brot his wife to the same area.

The Morgan Cobb map of 1728 (3 yrs. after Ensign Thomas's death) shows 3 houses close together on the west side of Ingell St. labeled resp. "D. Williams" "N. Gilbert" & "S. Williams". "D." must have been Daniel - youngest son of Samuel & Mary (Gilbert) Wms. "S." was prob. Samuel's son Seth, tho it might have been Samuel Jr. "N." - Nathaniel Gilbert?

Deed dated 18 June 1722 (lot with the land of Benj. Bosworth on the Northeast)

Robert made his will 11 June 1718; probated (v. 28 P. 189) 7 Feb. 1718/19. (P. 186)
Robert was a freeman in Hull in 1680. On 14 Dec. 1682 he bought the property of Deacon Benjamin Bosworth in Hull [in deed Robert is called "Robert Gold".] See "Bosworth Geneal. - Pt. 1" - 1926 M. B. Clarke.
On 4 Mar. 1694/5 "Lieut Goold, John Bosworth and John Loring" were chosen selectmen. This might be Robert^1 but more probably his eldest son Robert^2. When the long neck of land, on which Hull is situated, was laid out into lots in Feb. 1699/1700, lots 6 & 9 were given to "leftenant goold" (this too may have been the son Robert^2).

★ Zaccheus^1 - b. 1589 England (q.v.)

He lived at Hemel Hempstead, Hertfordshire, & later at Hunts Green near Potter Row, Great Missenden, Buckinghamshire, where he was assessed in 1629. His baptism was prob. recorded in the lost registers of Bovingdon.

Came to N.E. in "Castle" abt. 1638; in Weymouth 1639-40, when he was made an overseer of Henry Russell's will and dau. Bought land of bro. Jeremy there in 1639. Apparently lived in Lynn bet. 1639-44. Owned a mill on Saugus River 1640. In Ipswich by 1644, when a petition granted 29 May 1644 ordained: "Upon Zaccheus Gould's petition, it is conceived to be the general good and very convenient, that there should be a village about that farm, and that the town of Ipswich should further them therein." (Mass.Bay Records, II, 73) A petition recorded 18 Oct. 1648: "We Humbly Intreate this Honored Court that you wold be pleased to bestowe a name upon our Villiage at the new medowes at Ipswich which wee suppose may bee an Incoragment to others to Come to live amongst us: and also meanes to further a ministry amongst us, wee think that hempstead will be a fit name if the Court please to gratify us herewith. Will^{m} Payne, Brian Hamilton, Zacheus Goule

(Hempstead, the parish in which the chapelry of Bovingdon is situated, was the early home of Zaccheus Gould - Toppesfeild, parish adjacent to Yeldham, was the home of Samuel Symonds, who came over in 1637 and settled in Ipswich and was an Assistant, in 1648) "The mag^{trs} (upon conference wth som of the principall [persons] interested) doe thinke it fitt it should be called Toppesfeild......." Jo. Winthrop: Gou^{r} And so it was, and the village remained a precinct of Ipswich for more than 6 yrs. until 18 Oct. 1650 at a session of the Gen. Court at Boston, when: "In answer to the request of Zaccheus Goule and William Howard of Topsfield, the Court doth grant that Topsfield shall henceforth be a town, and have power within themselves to order all civil affairs, as other towns have." (Mass.Bay Rec. IV,pt.1,p.33.)

He took the Oath of Fidelity, 30 Sept. 1651, but never became a "freeman" of the colony, for which position it was necessary for him to become a member of the Church. He maintained friendly relations with Quakers & Baptists although both were proscribed. On 12 Nov. 1659, he was fined £3 for entertaining Quakers, the fine being remitted 31 May 1660 "in consequence of his great loss lately sustained by fire". His first ho. said to have been a block-house and that a garrison was kept in it for several yrs. He deposed at Salem Court, 26 Mar. 1661, stating he was then 72 yrs. old; prob. the largest land owner in the region - his prop. at time of his d. being estimated at not less than 3000 a., extending over a large tract of land in Rowley Village (incorp. as Boxford abt. 17 yrs. aft. his d.). He d. bet. 30 Mar. 1668, when he acknowledged conveyance of land to Thomas Perkins, & 13 Nov. 1668 when there is a record of a division of "the Common, on Salem side of the river," (now Middleton) in which it is stated that he was dead.

GRANT

Mrs. Oswald Milmore, 255 Mountain Ave., Piedmont, CA 94611

October 26, 1971

Dear Mrs. Milmore:

Was happy to hear from you, and to learn of your desire about more information about your ancestor, Lenah Eleanor.

I'm afraid my Peter Grant is no help to you; and also that I cannot advise you as to where to search. I am one of those persons whose ancestors were almost entirely in New England, and who have remained here.

"My" Peter Grant was quite a bit older than yours; I have no dates for him, as to birth & death, and I do not have his wife's name. But he moved from York, Maine, to Berwick, Maine, in 1703. His daughter, Mary Grant, married Joseph Pray who was born in 1671 and who died in 1748. All of this in Maine - which at that time was technically still part of Massachusetts.

A cousin supplied me with this information, and I do not immediately locate her letter, so cannot relay the source of her information. But very likely it was either "The History of Durham, N.H." or Libbey's Dictionary of Maine & N.H. or some similar book.

If your Lenah Elinor Grant was married in New York state, it could well be that her father's family came from New England; and that she might be descended from "my" Peter Grant; but I'm nearly 100 years ahead of the "time" you are interested in.

Am afraid that I've not been much help to you. But perhaps just the "clue" as to where my Peter Grant lived - might help you to follow the movements of some of his descendants, and perhaps locate your ancestor.

Sincerely,

Miriam B. Eddy

East Falmouth, Mass. 02536

Dear Mrs. Eddy:

The June, 1971 issue of "the Nutmegger" contained, under the section ANCESTRY SERVICE a listing of Peter Grant, opposite your membership number. I am writing to you in the hope that your Peter Grant may be the father of Elinor, or Lenah Elinor Grant who married Luther Miner in Bristol, New York in 1819.

For years I have been seeking Elinor's parents, and recently was given an excerpt from "History of Richland County, Wisconsin ", which, in a biographical sketch of a James H. Miner, states that Lenah Eleanor's father was Peter Grant. The same article gives her mother, Peter's wife, as Eleanor Towser; that they were married in the state of Delaware. Eleanor, or Elinor, was born, according to my family records, in 1795.

If it is at all possible that your Peter Grant and mine are one and the same, I would be grateful if you would let me know. A tradition in the Grant family which seems to persist is a story concerning a pair of silver buckles. I mention this in case it should be familiar to you.

Sincerely,

Zona Milmore

AEPH says he P in "John & Sarah" May 1652

Emigrant from England to Nantasket, Mass.; res. Boston, Mass. and was a charter member of "Scots Charitable Society of Boston" in 1657. Moved to York Co., Maine and purchased land at Kittery 1659. Had grant of 120 a. near York Pond, 1674.

It was not known whether Peter's first wife was dead or not. A certified copy to Kittery Town Book, long lost, gives date of Peter & Joan's m. as 28 Nov. 1664, she big with child. Apparently Elizabeth^1 was child she was carrying when she m. Peter. James^1 Grant had died or disappeared earlier.

Peter deposed in 1701 he was about 70 and had lived in upper Kittery over 40 years. He made his will "aged and creasey in body" - dated 19 Oct.1709- probated 30 Oct. 1712 = inventory, 2 Mar. 1712/13. Will names wife Joan and children, "them 7" (excluding Elizabeth).

He is thought to have been one of the "Scotch prisoners gleaned on the fatal field of Worcester and sent to Mass. in May 1652 by Order of the Eng. Gov't."
